PHOENIX CARDINALS

WILLIAM V. BIDWILL

President

The 1989 season is William V. Bidwill's 45th year with the Cardinals, an association that began as a child ball boy on Chicago's south side and continues today as owner and president.

The 57-year-old Chicago native presides over the oldest continuous professional football franchise dating back to 1898 and, along with the Chicago Bears, boasts the distinction as one of two charter members of the National Football League in 1920.

The Cardinals have remained in the Bidwill family since William's father, Charles, a prominent Chicago sports figure and member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, purchased the team in 1932. Charles ran the club until his death in the Cardinals' NFL championship year of 1947. His wife Violet guided the franchise's fortunes for the next 15 years followed jointly by their two sons, William and Charles, Jr. ("Stormy"). William became sole owner in 1972.

After being named a Cardinal vice president during his undergraduate days at Georgetown University, William Bidwill returned to Chicago from the Navy in 1956 to begin assisting his family's interests, including football. When the Cardinals moved to St. Louis in 1960, Bidwill returned to the Cardinals on a full-time basis.

Bidwill and his wife, Nancy, are the parents of five children: Sons William, Jr., Michael, Patrick, and Timothy, and daughter Nicole.

LARRY WILSON

General Manager

Larry Wilson, regarded as one of the greatest defensive backs in NFL history, now is making his mark in the front office as the club's general manager.

A Hall of Fame defensive back for the Cardinals during their first 13 seasons in St. Louis and one of only four Cardinal players to have his jersey retired, the 51-year-old Wilson's 30-year NFL career started with 13 seasons (1960-72) as a player and has continued with a variety of administrative posts.

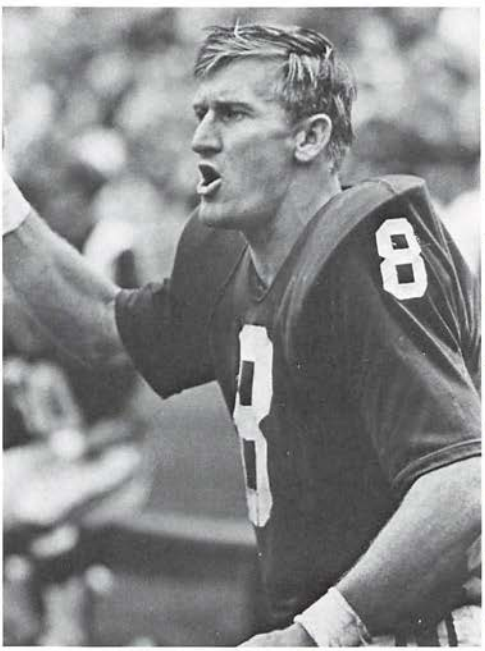

Wilson climbed the club's organizational ladder as director of professional scouting (1973-76) and director of professional personnel (1977-88) for the next 16 years. He also handled the team as head coach for the final three games in 1979, earning credit for victories over San Francisco and the New York Giants.

On September 6, 1988 early in the Cardinals' inaugural season in Phoenix, President Bill Bidwill appointed Wilson general manager to guide the franchise's football fortunes as it entered a new era in Arizona.

As a player, Wilson reached near-legendary status as a hard-hitting six-time all-pro and eight-time Pro Bowl free safety. His name is referenced throughout the Cardinal record book. He still owns club records for career interceptions (52), career interception yardage (800), career interception returns for touchdowns (5), and single-game interception return yardage (115). His 96-yard interception return for a touchdown against Cleveland on Dec. 19, 1965 remains the longest in Cardinal history. His 91-yard interception for a touchdown the following year against Philadelphia still ranks third on the same list. He led the Cardinals in interceptions six times. He intercepted three passes in a single game twice.

Phoenix general manager Larry Wilson, shown here during his Cardinal playing days, was a Hall of Fame defensive back and still holds numerous club records in a number of categories.

In 1966, he enjoyed one of his finest seasons with a NFL-leading 10 interceptions while tying a league record by intercepting a pass in seven consecutive games.

Wilson also holds the Cardinal record for longest fumble return, an 88-yard jaunt for a touchdown at Green Bay on Dec. 21, 1969. It was one of two career fumbles he returned for touchdowns and one of 12 career fumbles he recovered, the latter ranking him fifth in that category in Card annals.

He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in January of 1978.

Born in Rigby, Idaho, Wilson was drafted as a running back out of the University of Utah in the seventh round of the 1960 draft. After converting to the defensive backfield due to injuries, Wilson and coach Chuck Drulis innovated one of today's most potent and exciting aspects of defensive football—the safety blitz.

Wilson and his wife, Nancy, reside in Scottsdale.

ERIK WIDMARK

Director of Pro Personnel

Erik Widmark, 41, begins his first full season as the Cardinals' director of pro personnel following his promotion from assistant in September, 1988 when Larry Wilson was named general manager.

Prior to joining the Cardinals, Widmark spent three seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers from 1983-88 as a scout, chief scout, director of pro personnel, and special assistant to the head coach.

He joined the professional ranks following an extensive collegiate coaching career as an assistant at Cal Western, the University of San Diego, Cal Poly-Pomona, Pasadena City College, and the University of Oregon. He also served as head coach at Pasadena in 1979.

As offensive coordinator at Pasadena in 1978, the squad finished 11-1 and won the final Junior Rose Bowl by downing Jones County of Mississippi 38-9. As head coach the following year, Widmark's team posted an 8-3 mark and captured the school's second consecutive Potato Bowl, emblematic of the junior college championship in California.

A former wide receiver, Widmark played collegiately at Cal Western (now U.S. International) where he earned a bachelor's degree in physical education and a master's degree in education. He played for two seasons with the San Diego Chargers before two knee operations ended his playing career.

Widmark, a native of Spirit Lake, Iowa, and his wife, Cinda, reside in Scottsdale, Ariz. with daughters Jessica (10) and Erika (7), and son Dallas (9).

FRANCHISE FLASHBACK

After expanding to 16 teams in 1967, the NFL realigned its division arrangment, putting the Cardinals into the Century Division of the Eastern Conference with Cleveland, New York and Pittsburgh.

In 1979 following the NFL merger with the American Football League, the Cardinals were assigned to the Eastern Division of the National Football Conference with Dallas, the New York Giants, Philadelphia, and Washington.

GENE STALLINGS 4

Head Coach

Gene Stallings, the architect behind a rebuilding program that has elevated the Cardinals to the doorstep of NFL playoff contention the past two seasons, begins his fourth campaign as the club's head coach.

The 54-year-old Stallings brings a unique blend of football wisdom and influence to the Cardinals after cutting his football teeth under two legends of the game—Paul "Bear" Bryant (12 years) and Tom Landry (14 years).

The Paris, Texas native played for Bryant at Texas A&M where the future Cardinal head man was an all-Southwest Conference receiver and tri-captain on the Aggies' undefeated 1956 team. He was one of the "Junction Boys" who survived Bryant's storied training camp in 1954. "We weren't there weeks, it was just days," recalls Stallings with a smile. "Ten days. Been any longer and there wouldn't have been anybody left. We went out there in two buses and came back in one."

After earning a bachelor's degree in physical education at Texas A&M in 1957, Stallings began his coaching career as an Aggie student assistant. He served one year in that capacity before moving with Bryant to Alabama as a full-time assistant in 1958.

Stallings remained in Tuscaloosa with the Crimson Tide until returning to his alma mater as a 29-year-old head coach in 1965 where he remained for seven seasons (1965-71) during the tumultuous Vietnam War era, posting a composite record of 27-45-1. His crowning moment at A&M was a 20-16 victory over Bryant and the Tide in the 1968 Cotton Bowl. During that 1967 regular season, Stallings directed A&M to seven consecutive victories to overcome a 0-4 start and win the Southwest Conference championship.

His years under Bryant's tutelage left a lasting impression on Stallings as reflected by the coach's comment to the media at his introductory news conference in February, 1985, upon achieving a head coaching position in the National Football League: "I'm sorry Coach Bryant couldn't be here. I know somewhere he's smiling."

Stallings' professional career began when he joined Landry and the Dallas Cowboys in 1972. Stallings remained on the Cowboys' staff for 14 storybook seasons through the 1985 campaign. In Dallas, Stallings played a role in 13 playoff teams that won seven division flags (1973, '76-79, '81, '85), three conference championships (1975, '77-78), and one Super Bowl (1977). Altogether, the Cowboys appeared in Super Bowls X, XII, and XIII during Stallings' tenure as defensive backfield coach.

Stallings was praised for his ability to develop Cowboy free agents and low-round draft choices into top-flight NFL players. Most notably, he honed the skills of four Cowboy all-pros—Cliff Harris, Charlie Waters, Everson Walls, and Michael Downs. Harris, Walls and Downs were free agents; Waters, a converted college quarterback and receiver, was a third-round draft choice.

Although his three-year ledger with the Cardinals is 18-28-1, Stallings unquestionably has transformed the club into a competitive unit. The point is best illustrated by the fact that nearly one-half (13) of the 28 losses have been decided by seven points or less. The offense has come to be recognized as one of the most potent in the league, ranking sixth and fourth, respectively, in each of the last two seasons.

Stallings' third Cardinal squad provided thrills aplenty in a roller coaster 7-9 season as NFL football debuted in Arizona in 1988. An agonizing 21-14 loss at Cincinnati to the Super Bowl-bound Bengals to open the season and five consecutive losses to end the year and playoff hopes provided most of the frustrations; victories over the three most recent Super Bowl champions—the New York Giants, Washington, and San Francisco—and a 7-4 start, the team's best since 1976, prompted playoff talk around the squad's new home. The Sun Devil Stadium victory over the 49ers particularly whet the appetites of Arizona fans as the Cardinals overcame a 23-0 deficit to score the winning touchdown with three seconds remaining. The Cards also split with every rival in the traditionally competitive NFC East Division except playoff-bound Philadelphia.

Stallings' second Cardinal team was the last to play in St. Louis and only a 21-16 loss in the 1987 season finale deprived the Cards of their first playoff berth in five years.

In his rookie 1986 campaign, an injury-riddled St. Louis club endured a 4-11-1 record. Nevertheless, the Cardinals were considered one of the league's stingiest defenses, ranking first against the pass and fourth overall.

Off the field, Stallings finds time to channel his energies in a number of ways. In 1960, he authored Bear Bryant on Winning Football, a technical football book about Bryant's coaching philosophies. And more recently, he served as a technical consultant to director Larry Spangler in the movie, "Bear," the life story of Bryant featuring screen star Gary Busey. Stallings was particularly instrumental in the Junction training camp scenes of the movie.

He also has been heavily involved in community and charity work for several years.

Fourth-year Cardinal head coach Gene Stallings.

A man with deep Texas roots—he owns a ranch called "Hike Away" just north of the Paris city limits—Stallings was honored by his hometown of Paris (26,000 pop.) prior to his very first game as a NFL head coach. Stallings and New England Patriots' Head Coach Raymond Berry—both Paris products—were presented achievement plaques from city officials in pre-game ceremonies at the 1986 Hall of Fame game in Canton, Ohio. Billboards in Paris proclaimed the Cardinals-Patriots game as "The Great Paris Shootout." Both Stallings (1950-52) and Berry (1948-49) played varsity football at Paris High School, where Berry's father, Raymond, Sr., was the legendary head coach.

Stallings was elected to the Texas A&M Hall of Fame in 1982 and also has received the 1982 National Boys Club's Alumni-of-the-Year Award and 1983 Dallas Father-of-the-Year Award. He also presently serves on the Board of Trustees at Abilene Christian University.

Born March 2, 1935, Stallings and his wife, Ruth Ann, have one son, John Mark (27), and four daughters—Anna Lee (31), Laurie (30), Jacklyn (25) and Martha Kate (19).

JIM SHOFNER

Offensive Coordinator

Jim Shofner, one of professional football's most experienced and versatile coaches, enters his fourth autumn as the Cardinals' offensive coordinator.

Shofner brings 19 years of NFL coaching experience to the club, including stops in San Francisco (1967-74 and 1977), Cleveland (1978-80), Houston (1981-82) and Dallas (1983-85).

His work clearly was evident each of the last two seasons as the Cardinals' offense ranked sixth among NFL teams in both passing yardage (230.2) and overall yardage (355.1) in 1987, then improved again last year to check in as the number five passing club (236.3) and fourth-best offense overall (362.9) in the league. In addition, the Cardinals averaged 24.1 points per game in '87 and 21.5 last year, a quantum leap from their NFL-low 13.6 points per game in 1986.

A native of Grapevine, Texas, Shofner played both football and baseball at Texas Christian University. He was an all-Southwest Conference running back and defensive back for TCU, playing in the 1957 East-West Shrine Game and College All-Star Game against the Detroit Lions.

Following graduation, Shofner declined an offer to play professional baseball with the Detroit Tigers, instead logging six years as a defensive back with the Cleveland Browns from 1958-63.

The next season, he began his coaching career as an assistant at TCU. After three college seasons, he joined the pro ranks with the 49ers in 1967.

Shofner spent seven seasons in San Francisco working in various capacities with defensive backs, quarterbacks, and receivers. He returned to TCU in 1974 as head coach. Three years later, Shofner had a brief one-season reunion with the 49ers as defensive backs coach. Then in 1978, he moved to Cleveland where he handled the quarterback coaching duties for the Browns until 1980. He was named offensive coordinator of the Houston Oilers the following season and worked two years with Head Coach Ed Biles before joining the Cowboys as quarterbacks coach. in 1983.

Born Dec. 18, 1935, Shofner and his wife, Nancy, have two children—Mike (26) and Elizabeth (23).

MARV BRADEN

Special Teams

Marv Braden, a 13-year veteran of NFL coaching, begins his fourth season as the Cardinals' special teams coach.

Braden joined the club after a five-year tenure with the San Diego Chargers where he served as special offensive assistant and special teams coordinator. Previously, Braden logged four seasons as the Denver Broncos' special teams coach from 1977-80.

In 1986, the Cardinals ranked first in punt returns (11.7) and third in both kickoff returns (22.1) and kickoff coverage (17.7) among NFL teams. And in '87, the Cards ranked first in punt returns (12.5), tied for second in kickoff returns (20.9), and finished third in kickoff coverage (18.0) in the league. Though those numbers dropped last season, the Cards yielded just 13 field goals in 22 opponent attempts (59 percent) and blocked three tries, second only to NFL leader Buffalo (12-24, 50 percent).

In addition, kick return specialist Vai Sikahema is a two-time Pro Bowl selection (1986-87) and special teams standout Ron Wolfley has earned Pro Bowl honors the past three seasons.

A 1960 graduate of Southwest Missouri State University, Braden launched his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Missouri (1961-62). After three years as defensive coordinator at Parsons (Iowa) College, he received his first head coaching appointment at Northeast Missouri State in 1967. During two seasons at NMSU, Braden etched a 13-7-1 record.

His next stop was California Western (now U.S. International) where he registered a 26-12-1 mark as head coach from 1969-72. Braden moved to Iowa State in 1973 as defensive coordinator, served as offensive coordinator at SMU from 1974-75, and then joined Michigan State in the same capacity in 1976. The following year, he entered the professional ranks in Denver.

Among his coaching highlights have been appearances in Super Bowl XII, the 1980 and 1983 Senior Bowls, 1961 Gator Bowl, 1965 Pecan Bowl, and 1972 Mercy Bowl.

Braden has been very active with numerous clinics and speaking engagements and has had several written pieces published in motivational and instructional publications. Braden also is involved with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Born Jan. 25, 1938 in Kansas City, Mo., Braden and his wife, Becky, have one daughter, Janice (28).

LEBARON CARUTHERS 4

Strength and Conditioning

LeBaron Caruthers enters his fourth season with the Cardinals as strength and conditioning coach.

A native of Raleigh, N.C., Caruthers previously served as strength and conditioning coach with the New England Patriots (1982-84) and Southern Methodist University (1980-81). He took a one-year sabbatical in 1985 when he attended the University of Tampa to pursue a master's degree in physical education.

The 35-year-old played offensive tackle at East Carolina, helping it to the Southern Conference title in 1972 before transferring to North Carolina State where he became a two-time track and field all-America in the shot put. He received the NCSU Alumni Athletics Award, the Wolfpack's highest athletic achievement award, before graduation in 1977.

Two years later, he was named assistant track coach at Auburn, serving in that capacity for two seasons (1978-79) while also directing the weightlifting programs of both the men's and women's track teams.

While at SMU, Caruthers competed in the 1980 Olympic Trials in the shot put, was the Texas super heavyweight division Olympic lifting champion in 1980 and 1981, and helped the Mustangs win the Southwest Conference football championship in 1981.

Caruthers is currently a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association and National Association of Speed and Explosion. He has participated in two study tours overseas. In 1983, he became one of the first NFL strength and conditioning coaches to study Soviet strength and conditioning methodology at the highly acclaimed Institute of Sport and Physical Education in Moscow. In 1987, he became the first NFL strength and conditioning coach to study at the world-renown German College of Physical Culture (DHFK). He also lectured to the professors and coaches at the DHFK on speed development techniques used by the Cardinals, then continued the study tour in Moscow.

Born April 20, 1954, Caruthers and his wife, Kim, have two sons, Chase (2) and Lane (March 3, 1989).

In all, Johnson coached in six bowl games—1971 Pecan, 1972 Pioneer, 1977 and 1978 Cotton, 1980 Sugar, and 1982 Liberty.

Born May 26, 1941 in Maywood, Ill., Johnson earned a bachelor's degree in education and a master's degree in physical education at Missouri.

HANK KUHLMANN

Running Backs

Hank Kuhlmann, whose coaching career spans 26 years and includes previous NFL stops at Green Bay and Chicago, begins his fourth season as the Cardinals' running backs coach.

The 51-year-old Kuhlmann has strong roots in the state of Missouri. A native of Webster Groves, Mo., he received his bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education from the University of Missouri before playing four years as a catcher in the St. Louis baseball Cardinals' organization from 1959-62.

Following his stint in baseball, Kuhlmann returned to his alma mater to serve for three years (1963-65) as the Mizzou's freshmen football coach. In 1966, he was promoted to running backs coach, contributing to Tigers' teams that appeared in the 1968 Gator Bowl and 1969 Orange Bowl.

High School in 1976, working with the offensive line and the wrestling team.

He broke into the college ranks in 1977 as offensive line coach at Mira Costa Junior College in Oceanside, Calif., then moved to U.S. International in 1979. The following season, Solari coached the offensive line for 1980 NCAA Division I-AA champ Boise State.

After similar duties at the University of Cincinnati in 1981, Solari moved to Kansas in 1983 and in 1985 served as offensive coordinator at the University of Pittsburgh before joining Tom Landry's staff in Dallas in 1986.

Born in Daly City, Calif., Solari and his wife, Patti, have two daughters, Tamara (4) and Stephanie (2), and a son, Michael (Aug. 2, 1988).

DENNIS THURMAN

Defensive Backs

Dennis Thurman, whose 36 career interceptions still rank fourth on the Dallas Cowboys' all-time list, begins his second year as the Cardinals' defensive backs coach.

Thurman, 32, played in Stallings' defensive secondary at Dallas from 1978-85, then rejoined his position coach when the Cardinals claimed him on waivers from the Cowboys prior to the 1986 season. INSTANT REPLAY

For the fourth consecutive season, NFL clubs have approved a limited system of instant replay on a one-year basis.

The system stays the same as in 1988. The replay official will be assigned a regular officiating crew and will attend crew meetings the day before each game.

The following table outlines the number of reversals and plays closely reviewed by instant replay in each of the previous three seasons.

	Games	Reversals	Plays Closely Reviewed
1986	224	38	374
1987	210	57	490
1988	224	53	537

In 1986, the system was approved by a 23-4-1 vote. In 1987, the vote was 21-7. In 1988, replay was cleared by a 23-5 margin. In 1989, the vote was 24-4.

The NFL has discussed instant replay in some degree or other since the early 1970s. The league experimented in 1976 and 1978 using two basic frameworks—an independent system using cameras, replay machines, and technicians separate from the network covering the games, and a "no-frills" approach using exisitng television coverage.

In 1985, the NFL used the network feed of the nine nationally-televised preseason games to experiment with the basic system which later was adopted for 1986, 1987, and 1988. A total of 28 plays (17 confirmed call, 4 inconclusive, 1 reversed, and 6 no replay shown) were closely examined in the 1985 experiment.

Q—What is the objective of this system?

A—The clubs feel that on certain plays the telecast viewed by the general public should be used to correct an indisputable error. The system will be used to reverse an on-field decision only when the replay official has indisputable visual evidence available to him that warrants the change.

Q—Who will be involved?

A—The replay official (a former NFL or collegiate official) will be positioned in a sideline replay booth, which will house two television monitors and two high-speed VCRs plus radio communication to the on-field officials. The replay official makes the decision although a communicator (normally a member of the league office staff) and a technician also will be there to lend logistical help.

Q—Why is the system referred to as "limited" instant replay?

A—This system will concentrate on plays of possession or touching (e.g. fumbles, receptions, interceptions, muffs) and most plays governed by the sidelines, goal lines, end lines, and line of scrimmage (e.g. receiver or runner in or out of bounds, forward or backward passes, breaking the plane of the goal line). It also will be used to determine whether there are more than 11 men on the field.

Q—Why aren't most fouls included in this system?

A—It is recognized that in most circumstances the on-field officials have the best vantage points involving fouls. It is for this reason that instant replay will not review a list of the following 26 fouls:

- Clipping
- Encroachment or offsides
- Grasp of facemask
- False start
- Defensive pass interference
- Offensive pass interference
- Offensive holding and illegal use of hands
- Illegal batting or punching ball
- Illegal block on free kick or scrimmage kick
- Illegal crackback
- Illegal motion
- Illegal use of forearm or elbow
- Illegal use of hands by defense
- Illegally kicking ball
- Illegally snapping ball
- Intentional grounding
- Member of punting team downfield early
- Illegal formation
- Palpably unfair act
- Piling on
- Roughing the passer
- Running into or roughing kicker
- Striking, kicking, or kneeing
- Unnecessary roughness
- Unsportsmanlike conduct
- Use of helmet as a weapon

Q—Is the television network carrying the game part of the review process?

A—No. Although the replay official will be viewing the live network feed, there is no communication to television personnel as to which plays to show or not to show.

Q—What is the step-by-step procedure of a play review?

A—The replay official will view game action and a play will be replayed immediately on one of the two monitors while the other one continues to record the live feed.

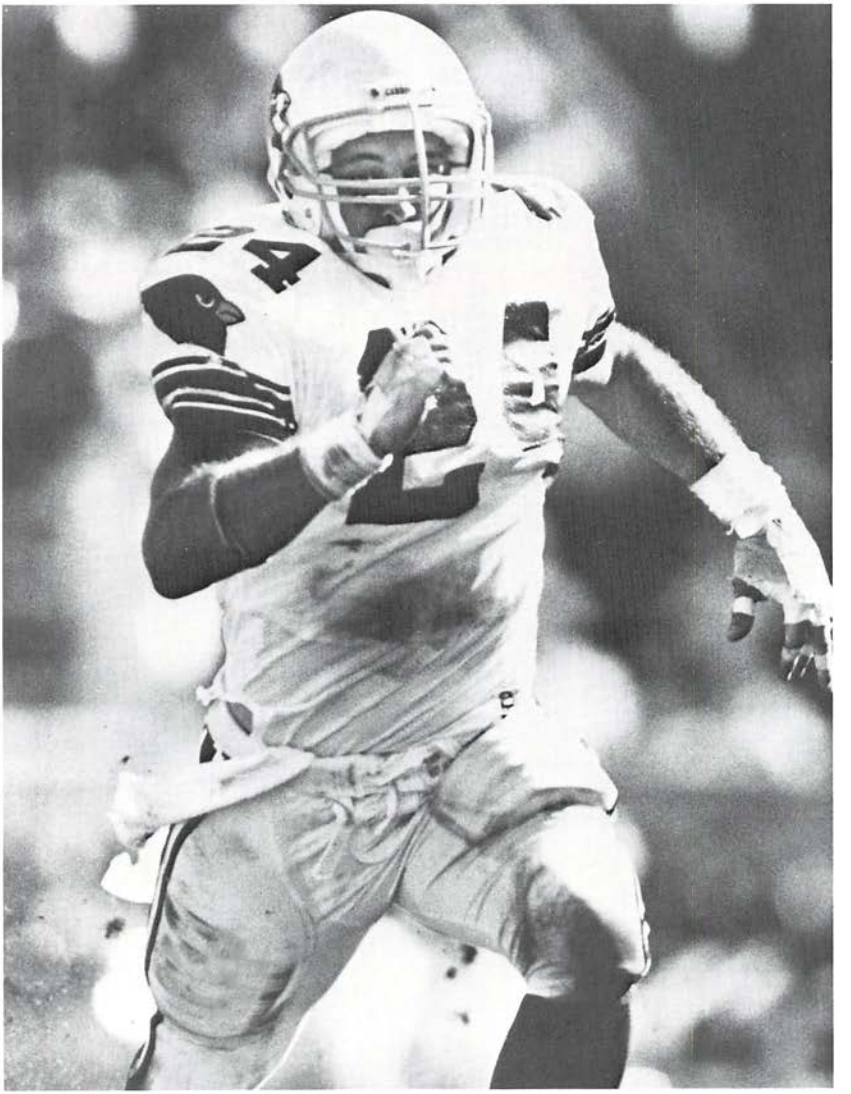

The replay official makes a determination if further study of the play is needed. If not, there is no contact with the field and play continues without interruption.

If the replay official believes an error may have been made, the umpire will be contacted via a headset.

The replay official will watch replay(s) on one or both monitors and complete his review within a reasonable period after the play is over.

The replay official will inform the umpire of his decision and the referee will make the appropriate announcement on the wireless microphone.

RECAP 4

What looked to be one of the year's Cinderella stories abruptly ended for the Cardinals in 1988.

"The season was somewhat like a roller coaster," commented Head Coach Gene Stallings. "We had an excellent chance to beat Cincinnati who went to the Super Bowl. We beat the 49ers who won the Super Bowl. And the only team we didn't split with in the NFC East was Philadelphia who won the East."

After leaving training camp at Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff a week early, Stallings guided his club to a 7-4 mark and a share of first place in the NFC East Division through the season's first 11 weeks. But untimely injuries struck and a five-game losing streak to finish the year dashed hopes of the Cardinals' first post-season berth since 1982 in their first year in Arizona.

The Cardinals lost an agonizing 21-14 season opener on the road to eventual AFC champion Cincinnati by the narrowest of margins. Twice the Cards owned possession of the ball first-and-goal at the Bengals' one yard line. Twice Cincinnati turned Phoenix away without points.

The Cardinals returned to their new home for their inaugural appearance in sold-out Sun Devil Stadium against Dallas on ABC-TV's Monday Night Football. A franchise single-game attendance record of 67,139 and a national television audience watched Phoenix again fall just short in a 17-14 heartbreaker to the Cowboys.

Despite the two narrow setbacks, the Cardinals had laid the groundwork for an exciting season.

The Cardinals notched the first victory for 1988 and for their new city and state the next weekend at Tampa Bay, a triumph that propelled Phoenix to a four-game winning streak and successes in seven of its next nine outings. Included in the exciting stretch were victories over the three most recent Super Bowl champions—San Francisco, Washington and the N.Y. Giants—as well as a 41-27 road thrashing of the previously unbeaten L.A. Rams at Anaheim.

The come-from-behind victory over the Super Bowl champion-to-be 49ers was nothing short of storybook, earning a page in the nostalgia of one of the NFL's charter franchises. Trailing 23-0 in the third quarter, the Cardinals stormed from behind to shock the 49ers with the game-winning touchdown pass from quarterback Neil Lomax to wide receiver Roy Green with three seconds remaining. It was the second-best comeback in team history, taking a back seat only to the 28-point deficit the 1987 Cardinals overcame against Tampa Bay.

The one-sided nature of the victory against the Rams on October 2 turned heads. The Cardinals' potent offense fine tuned its way to a 519-yard afternoon. Only five Rams opponents in history have bettered that figure in one game.

Despite another outstanding offensive afternoon with 495 total yards, the Cardinals' 24-17 win over the Giants November 13 proved costly. Lomax suffered a knee sprain and the club's fortunes seemed to follow him to the sideline.

The five-game losing streak that ensued to end the season began with two Lomax-less losses at Houston and Philadelphia. The latter was particulary distressing. Despite the absence of Lomax on an inclement afternoon at Veterans Stadium, the Cardinals did everything but win the game. They bettered the Eagles in first downs (25-17), total net yards (369-292), and time of possession (34:32-25:28). But the Cards succumbed with a season-high five turnovers and 12 penalties for 91 yards.

The Phoenix goal line offense was stopped on the Cardinals' opening possession as well as the game's final drive in first-and-goal situations as the Cards lost a 21-14 heartbreaker to Super Bowl-bound Cincinnati in Riverfront Stadium. The Cards took the game's opening kickoff 64 yards for a first down at the Bengals' one yard line but came away empty-handed. Phoenix drove 79 yards in the final 3:59, again to the one-yard line, only to be denied on four downs. Stump Mitchell carried the ball 22 times for 110 yards and Neil Lomax connected on 21 of 31 passes for 227 yards and a pair of TDs. But the eight plays from the Bengals' one netted a combined minus 19 yards as the Cardinals dropped their first game representing the city of Phoenix.

September 12
Sun Devil Stadium • 67,139

The curtain raised on NFL football in Arizona with Monday Night Football televison cameras setting the stage on a 98-degree evening. The Dallas Cowboys handed the Cardinals a 17-14 defeat before a sellout crowd in Sun Devil Stadium. Trailing 17-7 midway in the fourth quarter, the Cardinals mounted momentum when Neil Lomax connected with Jay Novacek for a 23-yard TD pass with 3:52 remaining to play and then backed the Cowboys into a third-and-eight situation on their own 22. But a pass interference call gave Dallas a first down after an incomplete pass and Herschel Walker ran out the clock on the next five plays. Walker sailed to 149 yards rushing.

September 18
Tampa Stadium • 35,034

Facing an 0-3 start, the Cardinals rallied in the fourth quarter for a 30-24 win at Tampa Bay, marking the Cards' first regular-season victory representing their new hometown of Phoenix. Quarterback Neil Lomax guided the Cardinals to a 20-3 halftime lead, but a chronic hip inflammation forced him to the sidelines in favor of Cliff Stoudt. The Buccaneers took a 24-23 lead but with just 5:01 remaining, Stoudt engineered a six-play, 65-yard scoring drive, capped by a 42-yard TD strike to tight end Jay Novacek with 3:14 remaining. Novacek (6-102) and J.T. Smith (6-103) combined for over 200 yards receiving while Stump Mitchell rushed for 110 yards on 18 carries. The Phoenix defense forced three turnovers and held the Bucs to just 15 first downs as the Cardinals etched their fifth consecutive victory over Tampa Bay.

4 Phoenix 30. Washington 21
September 25
Sun Devil Stadium • 61,973

Behind a tenacious defense that limited Washington to three yards and no rushing first downs in the second half (53 yards and two first downs overall), the Cardinals gained their first home victory in Phoenix with a 30-21 upset of the defending Super Bowl champion Washington Redskins. Washington quarterback Mark Rypien (26-41-303, 3 TDs) made his first NFL start after regular Doug Williams underwent an emergency appendectomy earlier in the week. The game was marked by a number of swings in momentum. The final shift was in the Cards' favor. With Phoenix nursing a 23-21 and Washington owning the ball near midfield with 1:02 remaining, Card defensive end Freddie Joe Nunn stripped Rypien and one perfect bounce later cornerback Cedric Mack scooped up the ball and raced 45 yards to the end zone to seal the win.

The Cardinals maintained a foothold on first place in the NFC East with a convincing 41-27 win over the previously-unbeaten L.A. Rams in Anaheim Stadium. Phoenix amassed 517 yards total offense, the sixth-most yielded by a Rams team, as the Cardinals won their third consecutive game for the first time since Stallings took over the coaching duties in 1986. Neil Lomax (28 comp., 43 att.) shredded the Rams for 342 yards in gaining NFC Offensive Player-of-the-Week honors as he completed his first eight passes to eight different receivers while sailing to 233 passing yards in the first half. The Cards' run defense again made a tremendous impact on the win, shutting down the powerful Rams' ground game to 85 yards. Phoenix also recovered three fumbles, including one Rod Saddler returned 16 yards for a crucial score late in the first half as the Cardinals overcame 12 penalties for 123 yards in the win.

The Cardinals cruised to their fourth consecutive victory, spelling their best start since 1976, with a 31-14 trouncing of the winless Steelers. The triumph improved their record to 4-2 and handed the Cards a share of first place in the NFC East Division. The Phoenix defense again produced a splendid effort, harnessing Pittsburgh to just 10 first downs and 66 yards offense in the second half while limiting the Steelers to only two third down conversions in 12 attempts. The Cards' defense allowed just 203 yards offense, its best effort dating back 33 games to a yield of 144 in a 13-6 loss to the N.Y. Giants on Oct. 5, 1986. Neil Lomax threaded 17 of 26 passes (65 percent) for 291 yards, including four for 119 yards to Roy Green, while defensive end Freddie Joe Nunn notched a pair of QB sacks, giving him six in six contests.

7 Washington 33, Phoenix 17
October 16
R.F.K. Stadium • 54,402

The Cardinals' attempt to sweep Washington for the first time since 1974 failed as they endured a 33-17 loss to the Redskins in RFK Stadium, ending a four-game winning streak. Phoenix scored on its first possession to take a 7-0 lead, then could muster only a field goal until midway through the fourth quarter as the Redskins scored 23 points in the first half. Phoenix missed on two field goal opportunities before halftime, then was stopped twice on fourth down tries after intermission as Washington quarterback Mark Rypien completed 15 of 27 passes for 303 yards and four touchdowns to complement a 26-for-41 day for 303 yards earlier against Phoenix. Neil Lomax logged impressive numbers of his own (26 comp., 44 att., 332 yards) while free safety Tim McDonald starred on defense with 11 tackles, a QB sack, and forced fumble.

8 Cleveland 29, Phoenix 21
October 23
Sun Devil Stadium • 61,261

The Cardinals' defense produced four turnovers, two of which set up scores, to erase a 14-0 deficit late in the first half. But Cleveland's Bernie Kosar turned in a stellar performance in his first action in six weeks as Phoenix dropped a 29-21 decision to the Browns in Sun Devil Stadium. After suffering an elbow injury in the season opener, Kosar returned to complete 25 of 43 passes for 314 yards and three touchdowns as Phoenix dropped to 4-4 at the midway point of the season. With Stump Mitchell (ankle) on the inactive list, fullback Earl Ferrell rushed for 110 yards and Cliff Stoudt helped forge a 21-20 lead in relief of Neil Lomax (reaggravated hip injury). Two fourth quarter turnovers prevented any chance of a Cardinals' comeback. Lomax, who left the game following a sack in the third quarter, completed 11 of 19 pass attempts for 120 yards, including a two-yard toss to J.T. Smith just before halftime, ending Cleveland's streak of not allowing an opponent touchdown pass over 33 quarters.

October 30
Texas Stadium • 42,196

Though held to their first scoreless halftime in 17 games, the Cardinals rallied for two fourth quarter touchdowns to hand Dallas a 16-10 defeat in Texas Stadium, only the Cardinals' third win in Big D in 12 years. While defensive end Freddie Joe Nunn was busy registering three sacks to complement eight tackles and a forced fumble, Earl Ferrell bulled his way to 110 yards rushing and caught four passes for 51 yards, scoring both Cardinal touchdowns. Nunn continued his torrid play, earning NFC Defensive Player-of-the-Week honors while Neil Lomax capped an outstanding five-game stretch, earning NFC Offensive Player-of-the-Month recognition for October.

10 Phoenix 24, San Francisco 23
November 6
Sun Devil Stadium • 64,544

Before a crowd of 64,544 noisy fans, the Cardinals erased a 23-0 third quarter deficit to shock eventual Super Bowl champion San Francisco with two touchdowns in the final 2:19 as Phoenix pushed its record to 6-4 with a pulsating 24-23 comeback victory over the 49ers. The Phoenix defense yielded 223 yards and 14 first downs in the first half but then buckled down to limit the 49ers to just eight first downs and 134 yards after intermission, including only six yards total offense in the fourth quarter. After Neil Lomax connected on scoring tosses with Roy Green and rookie Ernie Jones to carve the lead to 23-17, linebacker E.J. Junior stopped 49er quarterback Steve Young just inches short of a first down, giving Phoenix the ball with 1:27 remaining and no timeouts left. Lomax guided the Cards 66 yards in seven plays, the clincher a nine-yard strike to Green with three ticks showing on the clock. Al Del Greco's PAT sealed the second-best comeback in team history, trailing only the 28-point comeback win over Tampa Bay Oct. 8, 1987.

11 Phoenix 24, N.Y. Giants 17
November 13
Sun Devil Stadium • 65,324

The Cardinals scored on their first two possessions to take a 14-0 lead, then limited the Giants to just 92 yards rushing and only three third down conversions in 13 attempts as the Cards cruised to a 24-17 victory. The win gave Phoenix a 7-4 record and a share of first place in the NFC East Division for the first time at this point in a season since 1975. Roy Green turned in a stellar performance with six receptions for 176 yards, his best yardage figure since a career-best 196 yards vs. Washington Dec. 16, 1984. Neil Lomax threaded 23 of 35 passes for 353 yards. The win proved costly, however, as Lomax left the game early in the fourth quarter with a sprained knee, an injury that would cause him to miss the next two contests. The Cards converted 12 of 17 third down situations and posted an advantage of over 11 minutes (35:44-24:16) in time of possession.

November 20
Astrodome • 43,843

Not only were the Cardinals without the services of quarterback Neil Lomax, but free safety Lonnie Young suffered an elbow injury on the second play of the game, and his replacement, Travis Curtis, followed him to the bench just four plays later with an ankle sprain as Phoenix dropped a 38-20 decision to the Oilers in the Astrodome. The Cardinals successfully limited the vaunted Houston ground game to just three yards per carry, but Oiler quarterback Warren Moon tossed three touchdown passes as Houston converted 11 of 18 third down conversions. Starting in place of Lomax, Cliff Stoudt completed 19 of 29 pass attempts for 249 and three scores while J.T. Smith hauled in 10 passes for 114 yards. The loss would begin a season-ending five-game losing skid to drop the Cardinals from playoff contention.

Veterans Stadium • 57,918

The Cardinals amassed 25 first downs, 369 yards offense and forged a decided advantage in plays (82-60) and time of possession (34:32-25:28), but a season-high five turnovers and 12 penalties resulted in a 31-21 defeat to Philadelphia to knock Phoenix out of first place in the division. After taking a 14-7 lead midway through the second quarter, the Cardinals self-destructed when they came away with no points on a pair of possessions inside the Eagles' 10-yard line (fumble on the three, missed 26-yard field goal), saw a 41-yard scoring pass negated by a holding penalty, and after halftime could not overcome nine penalties and three interceptions. Strong safety Tim McDonald posted six solo tackles, broke up two passes, forced a fumble and deflected a punt in a solid all-around defensive effort. The game featured a combined 22 penalties (Phoenix 12, Philadelphia 10) and lasted three hours and 37 minutes.

December 4
Giants Stadium • 73.438

For the second consecutive week, five turnovers proved too much to overcome as Phoenix was saddled with a 44-7 loss by the N.Y. Giants, the Cardinals' worst defeat since a 45-7 loss to Washington in 1983. Neil Lomax returned after missing the previous two games to complete just nine of 25 passes, including only two of 10 in the second half. Lomax again was relieved by Cliff Stoudt after Lomax aggravated his injured left knee. Phoenix managed just seven first downs and 158 yards offense and was all but mathematically eliminated from playoff contention. Tim McDonald again starred in defeat with 12 solo stops, one QB sack, and a blocked extra point.

December 10
Sun Devil Stadium • 54,832

The Cardinals' playoff hopes were dashed in a gut-wrenching 23-17 loss to Philadelphia. Before the game was 10 minutes old, the Cards lost two fumbles and spotted the Eagles a 21-0 lead in the first quarter, only to fight back to within 21-17 early in the final period. After the Eagles blocked a punt for a safety and a 23-17 advantage, Neil Lomax engineered a textbook drive to the Eagles' 12-yard line, only to see a fourth-down pass and playoff hopes trickle out of the Cardinals' grasp. Phoenix battled poor field position all afternoon as 12 of their 14 possessions began inside their own 30 yard line. Despite the first quarter scoring shock, the Phoenix defense throttled the Eagles to force punts on eight of their next 12 possessions in the comeback while Lomax passed for a season-high 384 yards. Rookie Ernie Jones hauled in six passes for 166 yards, including a 93-yarder from Lomax, the fifth longest in club history and longest scoring connection since 1958.

The Cardinals ended their inaugural season in Arizona with their fifth consecutive loss, a 26-17 decision to the Green Bay Packers, a team that had won just three of its first 15 games. For the second consecutive week, Phoenix spotted its opponent a substantial lead as the Packers sailed to a 13-0 advantage before the Cards scored 17 unanswered points to take a 17-13 lead in the second quarter. But Phoenix managed to cross midfield just three times in the second half and came away empty-handed twice inside the Packers' 25-yard line. Freddie Joe Nunn ran his season-ending sack total to 14, second in the NFL among defensive linemen to Philadelphia's Reggie White (16.5), while wide receiver J.T. Smith finished with 83 catches, second best in team annals to his own club record 91 grabs in 1987.

HISTORY RECORDS

Jim Hart passed for a franchise-record 34,639 yards during an illustrious playing career from 1966-83. He also holds club records for career pass attempts (5,096), pass completions (2,590), and touchdown passes (209).

HISTORY

The Cardinals, a charter member of the National Football League, boast the distinction of being the oldest continuously run professional football franchise in the nation.

The Early Days

Founded in 1898, the team began as a neighborhood group which gathered to play football in a predominantly Irish area of Chicago's south side, playing under the name Morgan Athletic Club. The team later was acquired by Chris O'Brien, a painting and decorating contractor, and soon its playing site changed to nearby Normal Field, prompting the new name Normals.

In 1901, the team gained longstanding identification when O'Brien, finding a bargain, bought used jerseys from the University of Chicago. The jerseys were faded maroon in color, prompting O'Brien to declare, "That's not maroon, it's Cardinal red!" The club's permanent nickname had been born!

The jersey color and the location of the field led to a new and obvious name, the Racine Cardinals.

In Chicago at the time, football competition was exclusively amateur but such opposition became increasingly hard to find, so in 1906, the team had to disband.

In 1913, O'Brien reorganized the Cardinals. By 1917 they were able to buy new uniforms and hire a coach, Marston Smith. That year they lost only two games and were champions of the Chicago Football League.

The war in Europe and a flu epidemic in the United States forced the team to suspend operations once again in 1918. Following Armistice Day, O'Brien organized the Cardinals for a third time. From that day forward, the Cardinals have been a permanent part of the professional football scene in America.

Growth

The Racine Cardinals, their popularity growing in the Chicago area, eventually became one of 11 charter members of the American Professional Football League, forerunner of the NFL, in 1920 for the $100 franchise fee. Immediately after joining the league, O'Brien lured a great halfback, John "Paddy" Driscoll, to the Cardinals for $3,000 a year, a sum considered outlandish at the time. But Driscoll was an authentic superstar, a superior runner, blocker, punter, and possibly the finest drop kicker in the history of football.

In 1922, a team from Racine, Wis. joined the NFL, forcing the Cardinals to change their name to the Chicago Cardinals. The Cardinals also moved into their new home, Comiskey Park, the same year.

Under new Head Coach Norman Barry, the Cardinals outdistanced a field of 20 teams to win their first NFL championship in 1925.

A Chicago doctor, Dr. David Jones, purchased the team in 1929. In his first year of ownership, he coaxed running back Ernie Nevers out of retirement to become player-coach. Still in his prime, the 26-year-old Nevers scored 40 points on six touchdowns and four extra points in an historic 40-6 victory over the crosstown Bears on Thanksgiving Day, 1929.

After guiding the Cardinals to a 16-14-3 composite record in three seasons, the legendary Nevers retired as both coach and player in 1932.

Modern Era

Nevers' departure also marked the arrival of a new club owner. Charles W. Bidwill, Sr., a vice president of the Chicago Bears, purchased the Cardinals for Jones' asking price of $50,000. Bidwill divested himself of his Bears' holdings and a new era began.

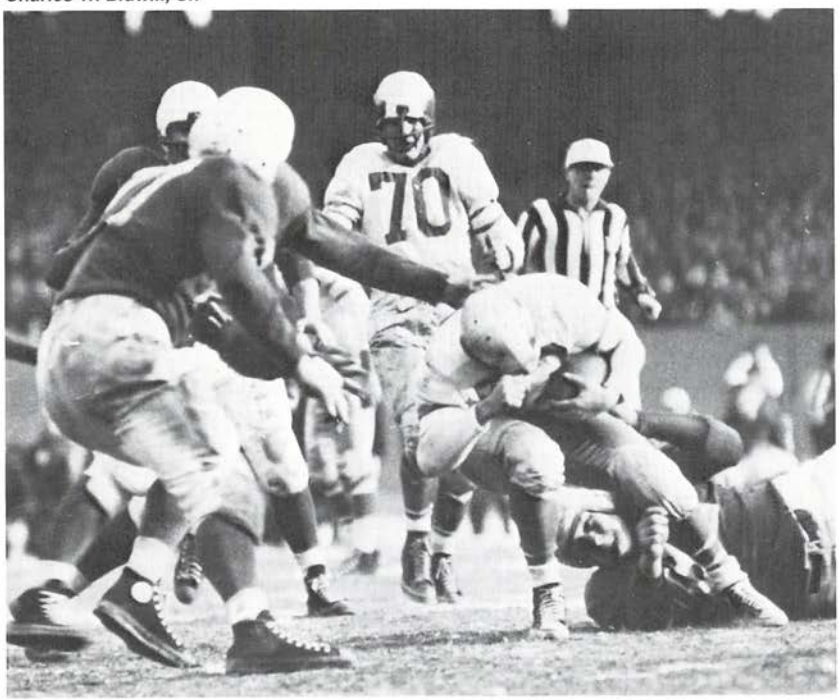

However, the team sorely missed Nevers' magic on the field. The Cardinals endured difficult years in the 1930s and early '40s. World War II hit the team heavily. The Cardinals' top passer, receiver, and lineman—Johnny Clement, Bill Dewell, and Joe Kuharich—went into the service. In 1944 as a war-time emergency measure, the Cardinals combined with the Pittsburgh Steelers to play as one team. It was called Card-Pitt. Co-coached by the Cardinals' Phil Handler and the Steelers' Walt Kiesling, a former Cardinal guard, the team split its home games between Chicago's Comiskey Park and Forbes Field in Pittsburgh but failed to win a game in 10 tries.

Success finally returned following the war. In 1945, the arrival of University of Missouri quarterback Paul Christman trumpeted the team's conversion to the "T" formation. Fullback Pat Harder and halfback Elmer Angsman were added in 1946. And in 1947, the "million dollar backfield" was completed when halfback Charley Trippi became a Cardinal.

Coached by Jim Conzelman, the 1947 Cardinals stormed to the Western Division title

The Cardinals won the NFL championship against the Philadelphia Eagles at Chicago's Comiskey Park in 1947. The bittersweet title came just months after the death of owner Charles W. Bidwill, Sr.

and a 28-21 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles in the NFL championship game on the frozen Comiskey Park turf.

But the '47 title season was bittersweet for the Cardinals' organization when the April death of Bidwill deprived the owner of witnessing the club's first NFL crown in 22 years. With his passing, Bidwill's widow, Violet, assumed control of the franchise for the next 15 years, a span that included a second consecutive Western Division championship and appearance in the NFL championship game, a 7-0 loss at Philadelphia, and the transfer of the team from Chicago to St. Louis in 1960.

Upon Mrs. Bidwill's death in January of 1962, control moved to sons Charles W. Bidwill, Jr. and William V. Bidwill. In 1972, William Bidwill and his family gained sole ownership with William becoming managing general partner. On July 1, 1976, incorporation of the company was accomplished with Bidwill continuing as chief executive officer.

After 14 years in the city, the Cardinals brought their first championship to St. Louis in 1974. The Big Red captured the NFC Eastern Division flag under Head Coach Don Coryell and advanced to the playoffs with a 10-4 regular-season record.

However, the Cardinals lost to the Minnesota Vikings, 30-14, in their first playoff appearance since 1948.

Again in 1975, Coryell provided St. Louis with a division title but another playoff loss, this time to the Rams in Los Angeles, 35-23, ended the Cards' post-season dream in the first outing.

The Cardinals next appeared in the playoffs in 1982 when Head Coach Jim Hanifan's club lost a first-round game at Green Bay, 41-16. In 1984, an offensively explosive St. Louis team narrowly missed the playoffs—and the NFC East title—with a 9-7 record. However, the Cardinals stumbled to a 5-11 mark in 1985, prompting Hanifan's dismissal and the hiring of long-time Dallas Cowboys' assistant Gene Stallings as the team's new head coach.

Arizona

After 28 years in St. Louis, the Cardinals relocated to Arizona in the spring of 1988 and made Sun Devil Stadium on the campus of Arizona State University their new home. Their first season in the Valley of the Sun began optimistically when the team raced to a 7-4 record and a share of the NFC East Division lead. But untimely injuries struck and a five-game losing streak ensued to finish the year, dashing hopes of the club's first post-season berth since 1982. However, the Cardinals' new home provided club single-game (67,139 vs. Dallas in Arizona inaugural game) and single-season (472,937) attendance records in the team's first autumn in Arizona.

Heritage

Reflecting the rich tradition of the franchise, 12 members of the Cardinals have been enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. They are Charles Bidwill, Guy Chamberlin, Conzelman, Driscoll, Kiesling, Curly Lambeau, Dick "Night Train" Lane, Ollie Matson, Nevers, Jim Thorpe, Trippi, and Larry Wilson. Wilson, the team's current general manager, was the most recent selection in 1978.

FRANCHISE FLASHBACK

In 1922, the year the Racine Cardinals became the Chicago Cardinals and the Chicago Staleys became the Chicago Bears, the Cardinals prevailed 6-0 and 9-0 in the two head-to-head meetings of the two arch rivals. The margin of victory in both contests was Paddy Driscoll's drop-kicking. He accumulated all 15 points.

FRANCHISE FLASHBACK

The Cardinals' 1925 season often is remembered for the team's domination of the crosstown Bears. Led by new Head Coach Norman Barry, the Cards again rode Paddy Driscoll's talented kicking to victory.

The kicking ace recorded three field goals in a 9-0 early-season triumph over the Bears.

The two teams met on Thanksgiving Day in a rematch. This time, the Bears had added a new halfback, Red Grange, who had signed with them immediately after his last game at the University of Illinois. Grange was making headlines with his spectacular running but the Cardinals held him and the Bears scoreless and the game ended in a 0-0 tie. The Cards stopped Grange with Driscoll's punting. He kicked out of bounds or away from Grange.

1989 NFL RULES CHANGES

At the NFL annual meeting in March at Palm Desert, California, club owners, for the fourth consecutive year, voted to utilize a limited instant replay system as an officiating aid. The vote was 24-4.

Replay was first adopted in 1986. It is used if there is indisputable visual evidence on videotape of an obvious error by a field official on plays limited to possession and goal line and out-of-bounds decisions.

The replay system in 1989 remains the same as the 1988 version when the instant replay official was assigned to work with the same seven-man, on-the-field crew throughout the season.

In other action, a joint proposal by the Long-Range Planning and Finance committees regarding player personnel also was adopted. The committees' recommendation for the first time sets off-season roster limits and the creation of a developmental squad. It also addressed roster cutdown dates and injured reserve.

The team agreed:

•Until May 31: No more than 90 players under contract.

•June 1: No more than 80 players under contract.

•Roster cutdown to 60 players after the third preseason game (August 29).

•Roster cutdown to 47 players Monday (September 4) prior to regular-season opener.

•Regular-season game roster of 45 players plus two inactive.

•Developmental squad of six players maximum per club established after final cut to 47 and comprised of only rookies and first-year players who have passed through waivers.

•Players placed on injured reserve during the preseason may not return to the same club that year. They also may not practice.

•Players placed on injured reserve after the final cut may return after six games by free reactiviation (each club has five) or procedural-recall waivers.

•Two practice options: One, after four weeks on injured reserve, a player can practice for two weeks, then the club must waive or activate him; two, after six weeks on injured reserve, a palyer can be activated, waived, or begin unlimited practice. If practicing, a player must count against the developmental squad total of six.

Also, the clubs approved the following:

•Further clarified the roughing-the-passer rule by prohibiting a defender who has an unrestricted path to the quarterback from flagrantly hitting him in the area of the knees when approaching from any direction.

•Specified that fouls which occur in the last five minutes of the fourth quarter as well as the last two minutes of the first half will result in the clock starting on the snap.

•Called for strong disciplinary measures against feigned injures.

•Any entering substitute who participates in a play must enter while the ball is dead and must move onto the field as far as the inside field numerals; in addition, the player or players replaced must have cleared the field on their own side (between end lines) prior to the snap or free kick.

•Established a new set of procedures, including loss of team timeouts or a five-yard penalty on the defense, to handle the problem of crowd noise which prevents the offense from hearing its signals.

•Further liberalized blocking rule to permit a blocker to initially contact on or outside the opponent's frame of the body so long as the blocker works to bring his hands back on or inside the frame after initial contact.

•Changed the simultaneous catch rule so that the offensive or defensive player who first controls and continues to maintain control of a pass will be awarded the ball even though his opponent later establishes joint control of the ball.

•Prohibited the offense, while in the process of substitution or simulated substitution, from rushing quickly to the line and snapping the ball with the obvious attempt to cause a defensive foul. In such an instance, the umpire shall hold the snap, giving the defense a reasonable time to complete its substitution or if a defensive foul results, the flag will be picked up and the down replayed.

SUN DEVIL STADIUM

Sun Devil Stadium, home to Arizona State University football since 1958 and the Fiesta Bowl since 1971, added the National Football League to its glamorous history in 1988 when the Phoenix Cardinals also took residence in one of the nation's finest football facilities.

Literally carved from the desert, Sun Devil Stadium sits in a spectacular setting between two mountain buttes in Tempe, Arizona just southeast of Phoenix.

Sun Devil Stadium, one of the nation's most picturesque stadia, is located between two buttes in Tempe, Ariz.

Sun Devil Stadium proved a most hospitable host to the Cardinals in the team's inaugural season in Arizona in 1988 when seven of the Cards' eight regular-season home games broke the club's previous single-game attendance records. The season total of 472,937 fans also easily eclipsed the Cardinal franchise's single-season home attendance mark.

Originally erected in 1958, Sun Devil Stadium has been expanded four times (1976, '77, '88, and '89), bringing capacity to over 72,000 for NFL football in 1989. Improvements over the past two years have made the facility a football showcase.

A state-of-the-art video replay scoreboard and Arizona State's 90,000 square foot Intercollegiate Athletic Complex building were added in 1988. The color video replay system, situated in the southwest corner, offers fans instant replays of game action. A complementary matrix board for messages and statistical information sits in the southeast corner. The dramatic new ASU building, located between the new scoreboards in the south end zone, bridges the stadium's loge level.

Two 30-suite levels topped by a modern press box have been added for 1989. Served by four industrial-sized elevators—one for the media and three for the public—the latest addition will offer working space for 200 sportswriters, new broadcast booths, and a rooftop camera deck in addition to suite seating for over 900 fans.

FRANCHISE FLASHBACK

In 1930, Ernie Nevers' second year as player-coach, the Cardinals did their part for Depression relief by playing an exhibition game against the crosstown Bears with the proceeds earmarked for the unemployed.

The game was notable because it was played indoors in Chicago Stadium. The field was only 80 yards long. Dirt was hauled in to form a six-inch layer covering the marble floor of the stadium.
